Weekly Reflection.

"Bread and Circuses"

The Roman Emperors of the past would divert the attention of their people from the social injustices of their reign by supplying them with "bread and circuses." Nowadays people distract themselves from the big issues of life by way of the escape routes of noise and social media and the entertainment business. But then life falls apart from the inside and the individual who needs constant distraction lives an empty life, a hollow existence.

So many suffer from the refusal to address the real hunger at the core of their lives, and that hunger can only be satisfied in the Eucharist, where Jesus is the bread of life. If we can get that in the centre of our lives, we will not need to have constant electronic stimulation. We will not need to be distracted by "bread and circuses."

Fr Shane.

Healing Mass with the Anointing of the Sick.

On Sunday 1st September at 4.00pm in the afternoon, we will have a special Mass in St. Joseph's Church, Carrickmacross, where we will celebrate the Anointing of the Sick. The Sacrament of the Anointing of the Sick is one that is underused among our faithful. The Oil of the Sick is one of the three oils blessed by the Bishop at the Chrism Mass each Holy Thursday. This oil is distributed to every priest and parish in the diocese, along with the Oils of Chrism and Catechumens, used in Baptism and Confirmation.

The Anointing of the Sick is a very special celebration which dates back to the earliest days of the Church. For many, the Anointing of the Sick was understood as Extreme Unction, to be used only in danger of death. The Sacrament is much greater than those limited occasions and is to be used as the occasion of healing for anyone experiencing sickness or ill-health.

As such we will invite all those from our faith community who wish to avail of this healing to come along on Sunday 1st September at 4.00 pm to experience the healing of Christ through this wonderful Sacrament.

We hope that those who are on the First Fridays Sick and Housebound lists will attend, anyone else who feels they could benefit from the Anointing, to come along to the celebration.
